Course Type	Elective
Course Level	Masters Degree
Objective	The aim of the course is to emphasize the role of the local administrations in the integration process of the European Union.
Content	This course focuses on the role of local and regional authorities in the integration process of the European Union. In this context, the decentralization reforms realized in Türkiye as a candidate to EU accession and on the concept of "Europeanization" will be discussed. The regional policies that constitute the building blocks of the integration process will be evaluated in comparative perspective.
